Define the concept of "Learning" and explain its needed characteristics with examples.

Elucidate in brief what classical Conditioning Learning Theory points out on the occurrence of Learning and explain the principles of classical conditioning with examples.

Describe "Reinforcement " and "Punishment" with their categories and state their utility in Learning.

Make a list of subjective factors for Learning and explain how any five subjective factors (you prefer) affect learning.

Make a clear illustration on "Learning skills" and state comparatively how learning skills can be utilized to improve one’s learning.

Make suggestions on the methods/ strategies that a learner can administer to increase his/her memory.

Write notes on any two (02) of the following.
   i. Reinforcement schedule
   ii. Stimulus- Response Learning & Response - Stimulus Learning
   iii. Observational Learning
   iv. Similarities and disparities between classical conditioning and operant conditioning
   v. Exam skills

**************************